

Jobseekers & Workers: Know Your Rights in DC

There are laws that protect you if you . . . have a criminal record . . . are currently unemployed and looking for work . . . are pregnant or recently pregnant . . . have a disability, and more!

The DC Office of Human Rights will explain civil rights laws that protect you from discrimination in employment and what to do if you believe that you've been discriminated against.

Bring your questions!

Tuesday
Feb 21 | 2 p.m.

To request a reasonable accommodation or interpretation, please contact Teresa.Rainey@dc.gov/202-727-5343 by Feb 16, 2017.

Check out more events @ dclibrary.org/bellevue